George Washington Proclaims Holiday for Thanksgiving

CUSTOM OF THANKSGIVING WAS INITIATED BY FIRST PRESIDENT

Whereas, it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor; and Whereas, both Houses of Congress have, by their joint committee, requested me "to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness;"

Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being who is the beneficent author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country previous to their becoming a nation; for the signal

Clara Hinze Speaks on American Tourists at Globe Trotter Meeting

"American Tourists as Seen By One of Them," is the subject to be discussed by Miss Clara Hinze this Wednesday, November 23rd, in Room one in the Home-Making building at Globe Trotters.

Comments on different groups in relation to the reflection that it gives of their previous education is to be the main trend of the talk.

No doubt we will hear all about the group, who never having traveled before, tries to assume an air of sophistication that makes them humorous spectacles and annoying companions.

Every one who has any acquaintance with Miss Hinze will again enjoy her manner of speech and interesting sense of humor, which promises to be quite a treat on the subject for discussion.

Economic Conference Will Be Held by San Jose State

Normal School Graduates Meet in Reunion on November 30

Friends and classmates who were students of the "Old Normal," when the old wooden building graced Washington Square, will meet again for a festive session of remember-when's at the reunion to be held Tuesday, November 30, at the Sainte Claire.

Robert Rhodes, president of the Santa Clara County Alumni Club of the State college, is directing the affair and expects it to be one of the largest ever held here as a large number of alumni live in or near the vicinity.

An unusual and worthwhile program is promised. The principal speakers will be the man of modern miracles in San Jose State athletics, Coach Dudley DeGroot. How he did it will be the piece de resistance of Coach DeGroot's talk which will be sweet music to the ears of the alumni who were students here in the days when San Jose occupied the conference football cellar. Also slated to speak on the reunion program will be Leon Warmke, president of the Associated Students at the State College.

A special program has been planned, provided by the college speech and music departments.

Tickets for the Sainte Claire dinner at 6:30, are going fast. Reservations should be made as soon as possible at the college alumni appointment office. Late comers, however, will be able to secure tickets at the hotel.

Harry E. Warmke Is On Stanford Faculty

Harry E. Warmke, brother of Student Body President Leon, has received a position on the Stanford faculty in charge of the university's biological experimental gardens.

Warmke attended San Jose State during his sophomore year, where he won honors as a debater and in the science department. He transferred to Stanford and there specialized in cell structure. His unusual brilliance resulted in admittance to Phi Beta Kappa honorary society in his senior year.

The young scientist was graduated in 1931 and is now working for his Ph. D. Warmke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Warmke of this city and was a star student at San Jose High School.

COLLEGE ORGANIZATIONS TO CO-OPERATE IN NEW PROJECT

Plans for a miniature on campus International Economic Conference are completely under way, and will take place early in the spring quarter at approximately the same time that the International Economic Conference will convene in London.

Under the temporary chairmanship of Harry Krytzer, last Monday afternoon, representatives from all campus organizations pledged their undivided aid to the furthering of the International Conference project.

At the same time the permanent student and faculty chairmen for the conference were elected. Miss Lois Larry, well-known in Y. W. C. A. work, was elected almost unanimously for the student chairmanship, while Dr. Bill Poytress is faculty chairman.

Bids for Freshman Dance Open to All Members of Student Body

The bid committee for the Freshman Ball, to be held at O'Brien's on December 10, yesterday opened the sale of bids to the general student body.

For the past two weeks, various committees, under the direction of General Chairman Bill Towner, have been organizing their work so that this year's ball will come and go as successfully as the freshman balls of previous years.

This year, the ball, which is to be semi-formal, will be given at O'Brien's, and both the Morrish Court and the Pompeian Room have been obtained. The music will be of the best, Craig's Cardinals and another dance orchestra having been engaged to play.

The following people are selling bids: Frank Hamilton, Bud Stewart, Pat Hicks, Rita Greco, Jim Sinclair, Ginger Thomas, Elwood Austin. Bids may also be bought in the quad.

Gillis Calls Recruits for Stage Workers

All students interested in stage crew work for the Christmas show, "Smilin' Thru," are asked to meet in room 165 at 12, noon, next Tuesday. This will be a very important meeting as the complete organization of the crew will be made at that time under the supervision of dramatic coach, Hugh Gillis.

"Smilin' Through" Will Be Christmas Offering To the Public

The Christmas play, "Smilin' Through," to be presented in the Morris Dailey auditorium on the evenings of December 15th and 16th, promises to be, to say the least, a colorful presentation.

The scene takes place throughout the play in the garden of old John Carteret, who has spent the greater part of his life in sorrow over the death of his fiancée on the eve of their marriage. Some of the most striking stage pictures will be seen when his sweetheart, Moonyeen, returns from her ethereal life to aid him in his moments of trial.

The first act opens in the years just before the war during which John decides to tell Kathleen, his ward, of what happened in the garden that night, fifty years before, when tragedy stalked so viciously to take away all that life had held for him.

In the second act then, this scene is reenacted on the stage just as if time had flown back that fifty years. Jerry Wayne, the jealous lover, enters the garden gate in a state of intoxication while John and Moonyeen are there. In attempting to shoot John he kills Moonyeen who has tried to save John by leaping in front of him. The shot arouses

Phi Kappa Pi Plans Student Loan Fund Tea

To raise money for the Student Loan Fund, a Silver Tea is planned by the Phi Kappa Pi sorority for December 3 at Newman Hall.

This tea will not only be a charming and enjoyable gathering of college women but also a method of raising money for a worthy cause. The Student Loan Fund, which is used to help needy students to complete their college work, is more urgently in need of money this year than ever before. It is the aim of the sorority with the support of the other sororities and women's organizations on the campus and the To Kalon, the San Jose Women's Club and the Cupertino de Oro Club to raise funds.

All women's organizations are especially invited to attend this Silver Tea.

The patronesses of the affair will be the Mesdames T. W. MacQuarrie, James C. De Voss, H. C. (Continued on Page Three)

COACH DE GROOT EXPECTS HARD BATTLE FROM UTAH GRIDDERS

With a selected squad of 26 men working out daily, preparations for the final game of the season with Weber Junior College at Spartan Field Saturday afternoon are progressing rapidly.

The Spartans really found themselves offensively against the Aggies, and they are hoping to carry on Saturday. Previous to last week's game, about all that San Jose supporters could point to in accounting for their team's success was a fighting defense and Jack Wool's punting ability. Things appear to have changed however. Exceptional ball-carrying talent was manifested on the part of three backfield men other than Wool, and a brand new attack featuring the true Warner lateral and forward-lateral passes was brought to light. Dee Shehtanian, Ray Arjo, and Joe Dieu indicated that they have reached top form for the first time this season. Any of these boys are dynamite once sprung in the open and Weber's defense had better keep an eye on them.

This game is the last of the season, and DeGroot can now afford to shoot the works. He can

Record Crowd To View Weber Game

Utah Team Enroute to Honolulu; Three Teams Making Trip

VISITING GRIDDERS HAVE REMARKABLE RECORD IN GAMES

Contrary to the belief of most State supporters, that Weber College is not a Junior College. It is a state institution whose enrollment is about 850. It is a Mormon school and one of the most popular colleges in the Rocky Mountain district.

And, in case any one should doubt their ability as a grid team we might add they have suffered but two league defeats in ten years, which, I would say, is quite a record. One of those defeats came this year when they were downed by Ricks College of Idaho, by one point.

Honolulu bound, the Rocky Mountain team will play here Saturday and sail for the Islands the following Wednesday. Workouts will be held in San Francisco, where they plan to stay for several days.

A Warner system is used and according to the record established in the past years, it is used very effectively. Merlon Stevenson, who coaches the Weber squad, has held the post for 11 years, which is a reputation which speaks for itself.

About thirty men will make the trip, but they have plenty to pick from in that they have between five and six teams in suit and with very little difference between many of the players. There is so doubt as to the calibre of the teams that the Spartans will be pitted against. Fortunately, the San Jose team suffered practically no injuries in the Aggie game last Saturday and should be in shape to go the limit against the out-of-state gridders.

Edward Wade, tackle, was named on the Utah scholastic all-state basketball team in 1932. He represented Weber High of Ogden, Utah. Wade stands six feet four inches and weighs 188 pounds. He wears a size 14 shoe and his brogans are specially made.

Joe Fowler, regular end, was named all-state guard and all-intermountain guard in basketball last spring. He represented Ogden High and his team won the Utah title and Intermountain title.

Bill Baker, one-armed center, is one of the marvels of the age. He hails from Honolulu and played for McKinley school of Honolulu before enrolling at Weber. He was named all-conference center last year in football on first team. Is an all-around athlete.

George Zane, roving guard, is a midget, but carries a bundle of class in his body. He is also from Hawaii. Playing his final season at Weber.

Bob Van Dyke, all-conference fullback last season, is a triple threat performer. Runs, kicks and passes with the ease of a Kipke.

Spartan Spasms

By Murdoch and Bishop

The first intersectional football game in the history of the San Jose State College! That's the way the greatest football team in the school's record will wind up its triumphant season. Playing for the finest cause of all, charity, the Spartans will attempt to preserve their undefeated record against the strong Weber Junior College team from Ogden, Utah, Saturday afternoon at Spartan Field.

Weber is no stranger to Dud DeGroot for both his 1930 and 1931 Menlo teams hold victories over the Utah lads. On both occasions the Ogden institution proved itself to be a worthy grid foe.

Likewise five members of the Spartan squad have seen action against Weber before. Jerry Whitaker, Carl Sandholt, Mel Hornbeck, Dee Shehtanian, and Charlie Baracchi were members of the great 1930 menlo team which journeyed to Ogden and vanquished Weber 19-0, on a frozen field in zero weather.

Saturday's game will be the last for three Spartan backfield men, namely, Rodger Moore, Joe Dieu, and Jack Wool.

Jack Wool brings to a close one of the most brilliant athletic careers in the annals of Spartan sports. Though he gained perhaps his greatest fame as a track man, starring as a hurdler, sprinter and pole vaulter and winning the National Senior A. A. U. championship in the latter event for the year of 1931, Wool's accomplishments on the football field have been scarcely less spectacular. As the mainstay of mediocre and losing Spartan teams, he received honorable mention on the Warner, Rockne, Jones, Alexander All-American team of 1930. In the light of these achievements then, it seems no more than fitting that he should culminate this career as the triple threat backfield ace of San Jose State's greatest grid aggregation, the 1932 Far Western Conference Champions.

Oh, the miracles that can take place in the short span of one year!! Contrast the beaten, despondent, crippled, and discouraged football team which went off to play Modesto a year ago Thanksgiving day, with the confident, buoyant group of players who, with a successful campaign behind them, are looking forward eagerly to their first intersectional game. Who said there wasn't any Santa Claus! His name is Dud DeGroot.

Let's make the Weber game a big success from every possible standpoint! Get out and support the team and the Elks!

Those lucky twenty-five or so players who received sweaters from the local Elks are being greeted by "Where's the fire sale?" from the rest of the fellows. Just a little envious, that's all.

Congressman Carter Is Former Grid Star at San Jose State

PLAYED ON TEAM HERE IN DAYS OF OLD NORMAL TRAINING SCHOOL

By Theron Fox

"I played football with the San Jose Normal School thirty years ago." With those few words Congressman Albert E. Carter of Oakland, introduced himself to the Spartan football team when they were gathered at a chalk talk the night before the Aggie game in Sacramento.

Practicing on the San Carlos Street lot is anything but new, according to the smiling alumnus from the bay region, who tells us that the field was the original practice site for San Jose.

"Of course, in those days we did not have turf, but played out on the dust and the rocks. Despite the lack of first class material in any abundance, we always managed to hold our own.

"In those days we played Stanford, Santa Clara, California, Nevada, Pacific and Chico. We trounced Santa Clara, Nevada and Pacific, but usually lost to the Bears and Cards due to their greater reserve power.

"It was in one of our games with Stanford that we told Fielding Yost, then coach of the Cards, that our big game was coming up with Chico. He felt sorry for us, as we played without a coach, and he came down and helped us out. Chico had a great team then too, but we beat them by a 5-0 score.

"Yost did not receive any pay for his work with us, but his time was not entirely lost. It was while coaching San Jose that he discovered Willie Heston, one of our players, whom he later took to Michigan with him. Heston is even today considered the greatest halfback of all-time, ranking second only to Indian Jim Thorpe.

Congressman Carter believes that an incident which occurred at Reno was the most humorous and interesting that he has ever heard of. Behind the goal posts there was a canal about six feet deep. In those days any ball which went out of bounds was in play until recovered by a player. "Nevada was backed against its own goal posts," tells Carter, "and was being forced to punt. One of our boys broke through to block it and the ball went back into the canal with all 22 of the players in after it. We recovered, adding more points to our already large total."

Carter, who graduated with the class of '22, was recently elected to his fifth term in Congress.

Coach Blesh Calls Frosh Basketball Men for Practice

With football season having drawn to its close, the local Frosh interest has turned to the casaba game, basketball. Erwin Blesh has taken charge of the yearlings and with a large squad and experienced material to work on, hopes to turn out another winning team. Last year's Frosh won 9 out of 11 games, and this year's contingent bids fair to eclipse this record. At least half of the men turning out for first year basketball this season have records that fairly sparkle. Mac is already eating an envious eye at Blesh's material and hoping some of them were eligible for Varsity.

The squad that is out thus far consists of Caciotti, Glover, Fidanque, Hyatt, Bedell, Keeble, Troutner, Bowser at forwards; Lindner, Campen, Isenburger, Paulus, and Kiperasch, centers; Wing, Woods, Messenburgh, Wulfin, Arnerich, Gilson, Giamburo, D. Bernardo, Hildebrand, Biddle, and Wiget, guards.

The squad will probably be increased five or six more men within the next week or so as the Frosh football team have several more court aspirants who have not turned out as yet.

The first game of the season will be with Mountain View High, Valley League champions, on December 6. This contest will probably extend the Frosh to their limit, for Mountain View has exactly the same quintet backfield won the championship with last season. However, Blesh determined that his team is going to start the year with a win.

Frosh, look out for some tough scrimmages.

California Soccer Team Forfeits to San Jose Spartans

LOCALS END SEASON WITH WIN; PROSPECTS ARE GOOD FOR '33

The San Jose State soccer squad officially ended its current season last Monday, November 21, when the University of California forfeited the final game to the Spartans.

California, with many members on the injured list, could not muster enough men to come down to San Jose. The three-game series with Stanford resulted in a number of severe injuries. Besides the physical trouble, the men are in their final examination week, and consequently feel that they cannot afford to miss the classes.

The Spartans were disappointed at the turn of affairs. With the first Cal-State game ending 4-3 in Cal's favor, the locals felt confident of a victory in the return game.

Last Saturday, in a practice game, the reserves defeated the varsity 3-2, in a hard-fought battle. However, it must be taken into consideration that the Goodwin brothers, Dan Alksny, Jack Baird and Charley Walker, played for the reserves.

Lining up for the reserves were the following men: Billwiller, Baird, Alksny, Hay, Green, Holbert, Wittenberg (for the first half), Peterson, Frank and Tom Goodwin, and Coach Walker.

The varsity used the following men: Applegarth, Claypool, Clemon, Eggleston, Jacobsen, Green-

Reserve Soccerites Defeat Regulars in Practice Game; 3-2

In a practice game held on the San Carlos turf Saturday morning the reserve soccer team took the regulars down the line to the tune of 3-2.

Coach Walker was especially pleased with the work of some of the reserve material, part of which was made up of freshmen who have had very little experience here.

The game was not an exciting one. Each team showed moments of potential strength, but neither played consistently throughout.

Several fine prospects are looming for the team next year and the conference should have some tough competition in the San Jose soccer varsity.

Coach DeGroot Speaks at Meeting of Santa Clara Alumni Club

With Dud DeGroot as the chief speaker, the Santa Clara Alumni Association held a reunion at the St. Claire Tuesday night, November 22, at 6:30 p. m. DeGroot spoke on the possibilities of the introduction of an additional home-coming in the fall, or a change in the date from the spring to the fall. Leon Warmke, president of the student body, spoke of happenings on the campus during the past quarter which were of interest to the alumni, especially the Suzzalo report.

Others on the program were Ormond McGill, with demonstrations of magic; Joy Arps, who gave several humorous readings; and a string quartet, composed of Jessie Stirling, Hazel Kirk, George King, and Maureen Cornell, entertained with a group of musical numbers.

Robert Rhodes, student body president in 1927, presided over the affair. Rhodes, assisted by those in the Alumni Appointment office, arranged the program for the reunion, which was informal.

The last game of the season failed to materialize, and as a result left a squad of disappointed Spartans with nothing to do Monday afternoon. If you think that the boys are enthused over the forfeit, just ask any one of them.

Coach Walker Urges Teams To Sign for Speedball Tourney

FRESHMEN HAVE ADVANTAGE WITH THREE TEAMS IN RUNNING

The last chance to sign up for the intramural speedball tournament will be this afternoon.

Coach Walker urges that each man in every class come out and support his class in this event. So far the sign-up has fallen below expectations, but a last minute rush will probably fill the squads to capacity.

The freshmen and sophomores lead in the sign-up. The frosh have almost three teams ready to compete in the tournament, while the best in other classes is one. The frosh have 39, sophomores 21, juniors 15 and seniors 13.

The frosh have the best chance to come out on top as they have three teams to eliminate, while the other classes are on the short end when it comes to squads. The second year men have an excellent chance to go places as they have a team composed of varsity soccer men who have had a great deal of experience in this line. One of the freshmen teams will be made up of men who were on the freshmen football team.

All contestants should watch the bulletin board in the men's gymnasium for the schedule. Due to a shortage of time the game will probably have to be played the first week after Thanksgiving vacation.

ECKERT COACHES TEAM FOR TUSSLE WITH SANTA CLARANS

Participating in a formal debate on either the first or second of December, Charles Pinkham, Tom Needham, and Joel Carter representing San Jose State, will meet a team from the University of Santa Clara, in the Little Theatre.

The subject chosen for the debate by members of the teams is one of great international interest. The question stands: "Resolved, that the United States cancel its war debts." The State team is upholding the affirmative side of the question.

This debate should be one of the biggest attractions of the season, and a good crowd is expected to hear it. In all probability this team will meet others from points throughout the bay region, and so interested students should watch carefully for the coming debate schedule, which Mr. Eckert, debate coach, promises will be one of exceptional fineness.

Library Is Giving Money to Students Who Study Books

PENNIES ROLL OUT FROM POCKETS IN LIBRARY COLLECTION

At last the impossible has happened! The library is now giving away money—the only catch is one has to know in which book to look for it. Just the other day while taking the card out of the pocket in order to sign it, out rolled a penny. On further shaking, another one bounced out onto the table. But all additional shakings did not result in any further discovery of wealth.

Just imagine the person rich enough in this day and age to throw their small change in the pockets of library books. The librarians had better watch their books carefully—someone is going to turn them all upside down some day when they've forgotten their lunch money.

The third act, opening in the year just following the war, portrays the struggle Kathleen has to make her Uncle John accede to her love for Kenneth Wayne, the son of the Wayne who had killed Moonyeen fifty years before. Kenneth's return from the war in a crippled condition instigates the effort on his part to forget Kathleen for fear of his inability to take care of her, but when old John relents his action of vengeance Kenneth decides that in his love for Kathleen he will find something to live for that should rid him of his crutches very soon.

YOU TELL HER, ANN!

MacThrift is right—his words of sense are making others cut expense. "Why go," says he with wise advice, "To the North Pole to buy your ice? "Don't think a thing is all O.K. "Because you buy it miles away."
